PAVLIK AND ASSOCIATES ANNOUNCES RELOCATION INTO ONE OF FORT WORTH'S REDEVELOPMENT DISTRICTS

Pavlik and Associates, one of the first tenants to occupy redeveloped space in the heart of Sundance Square, has relocated from the restored City National Bank Building to the Village at Camp Bowie, 6115 Camp Bowie Blvd., Suite 270.

Located in west Fort Worth along the Camp Bowie Boulevard corridor, Ridglea Village is part of the Urban Village program sponsored by the City of Fort Worth to revitalize older commercial districts. The Village at Camp Bowie is currently working with the city, Historic Camp Bowie, Inc. and other area stakeholders to explore design guidelines that promote quality development in the area bounded by Bryant Irvin and Ridglea.

“Seventeen years ago, downtown Fort Worth was in the early stages of redevelopment,” said Linda Pavlik, agency founder and president. “There was, and is today, a vibrant energy in Sundance Square. Moving to Ridglea Village continues our philosophy of supporting innovation and redevelopment through communication and community building.”

Pavlik and Associates is a full-service communications firm that specializes in building a positive image for businesses, corporate officers, entrepreneurs, community leaders and advocacy as well as non-profit organizations. Pavlik has more than 30 years as a communications specialist. The firm was established in 1983.
